

~LIZZIE FITCH & JONATHAN DELACHAUX

. . . no, it's not just the street boys, talkin 'bout the way the world is.
two young artists, GENEVA-based JONATHAN DELACHAUX and PHILLY-based LIZZIE FITCH - are currently making the NYC scene - with their take, too.
It's actually quite a brilliant curatorial match.

JONATHAN DELACHAUX AND LIZZIE FITCH opened Jan 16th,
the show runs JAN 16 - FEB 21, 2009

JONATHAN DELACHAUX with 'Golem', 2008. acrylic on canvas.
In this series of paintings, a story-telling narrative, Delachaux's characters build Golem, the man-made creature of clay first cited in the Talmud.

JONATHAN DELACHAUX was born in Motiers, Switzerland in 1976. He studied at the Ecole supérieure d'arts visuels, Geneva. He currently lives and works in Geneva.

JONATHAN DELACHAUX. no, your eyes do not deceive you.
both Lizzie's and Jonathan's work have heavy-duty, as in explicit, graphic references to the most primal aspects of human-hood. His work is based on life-size puppets which he hand builds. He then paints from them, using them as models, onto plastic film, in reverse, and then transfers that image onto canvas.
The result is an acrylic painting with an uncannily flat, photographic surface.

LIZZIE FITCH, 'FAMILY - WALKING', 2008. multi-media.
Lizzie uses hand-made puppets, in this piece, as well. but in a 3-D form, and as the primary vehicle.
Ironically although she uses many pieces of reality, her 'people' are not photographic, but collaged !!
as in, truly - patchwork !!
